MISS LILLY BLANCHARD

Prominent Washington Lady Found Dead in Bed at Her Home Yesterday, Death Being Due to Apoplexy.

Miss Lilly Blanchard, aged 73 years, one of the most prominent residents of the county, was found dead in bed at her home in Washington yesterday morning by her aged sister, Mrs. William White.

Mrs. White said that on Saturday night her sister seemed to be enjoying her usual health and that they both retired to their respective rooms at bed time. When Mrs. White went to call her sister on Sunday morning she found that Miss Blanchard was seemingly dead. Physicians and neighbors were called in and it was discovered that the good woman had been dead for several hours.

Coroner Charles Slack was called and after making an examination he pronounced that death was due to apoplexy. According to the family physician, Miss Blanchard has been suffering from hardening of the arteries for some time.

The funeral will be held from her late home at Washington tomorrow and it is probable that her remains will be cremated, as she has expressed a wish that this be done many times.

FRED ARN FOR CITY CLERK

FRED ARN
The Workingman's Candidate for CITY CLERK

Opens the campaign for the city election in November, and says that the encouragement he has received from the voters of Maysville is most gratifying. Mr. Arn, or "Brownie", as he is known by a host of friends and associates, is one of the most popular young men in our city, and one who cherishes the friendship of his acquaintances as a treasure. Fred Arn is one of Maysville's most promising business men; a clean, conscientious liver, a man of creative mind and virtuous thought, and one who has earned the privilege of being termed a working man, with a sincere desire in his heart, to serve his fellowmen, and hoping to some day reach the point in his life where he might be instrumental in causing the freeds in the homes of workingmen to burn brighter and to help the poor man to give his children the opportunities that are rightfully theirs. From the general run of conversation heard among the voters on the streets, Fred Arn is going to be about the hardest man to beat that has been in the City Clerk race for years.

NARROW ESCAPE

E. Stanley Holland, Big Boat Used at Dam, Hits Snag Saturday and Has Big Hole Rammied in Its Hull —Derrick Boats Keep It From Sinking.

The "E. Stanley Holland," steamboat used by the Bates and Rogers Construction Co. at Lock and Dam No. 33 just east of the city, narrowly escaped sinking on Saturday afternoon when it ran into a snag at that place.

The boat is being used to tow barges of sand used in filling. The boat was engaged in this work when it struck a large snag, a remainder of the cofferdams built by the contractors to carry on their work.

A large hole was torn in the hull of the steamer and had not two derrick boats come immediately to the assistance of the boat, it would have sunk within a short time. As it was the lower deck was covered to a depth of several feet with water.

DEATH OF MR. FRANK COCKRELL

Mr. Frank Cockrell, aged 72 years, well-known Maysvillian, dropped dead at his home on Sixth street Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Cockrell had been ill for some time of kidney trouble, which was indirectly the cause of his death. For a number of years he was employed as a blacksmith at the Hall Plow factory and later in life tended the city lights when the old gas lights were in use. He was also janitor at the city offices for several years. Deceased was a quiet, unassuming sort of fellow, who was much respected for his gentlemanly ways.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. George Crawford and Miss Addie Cockrell of this city and Mr. Thomas Cockrell of Kansas City, Mo.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his sister, Mrs. George Crawford, on Lee street. Services by Rev. A. F. Stahl of the Christian Church. Burial in the Maysville cemetery.

PENSION LEGISLATION SHOULD BE TAKEN UP AT ONCE

Constructive statesmanship will have its opportunity in devising a pension or insurance system for the veterans of our war with Germany. Pensions there must be. Whether it shall be a planless patchwork with inequalities and injustices, depends upon the care with which the subject is studied and the promptness with which the task of framing legislation is undertaken. Pension legislation in this country has not been adequate, timely nor equitable.

Politics has always had more or less to do with Civil War pension legislation. The bid for the 'old soldier' vote has been too much of a factor in the framing of pension laws. The system of granting pensions by special act of Congress has been open to abuse and has sometimes savored very much of "pork." Pensions by special act came by special favor, which should not be the practice. Whatever pension is to be paid to any soldier or his dependents should be by right, under definite law, in pursuance of that pledge of the nation to "care for him who bore the battle and for his widow and orphan."

Pension legislation should not be left until after the close of this war. A comprehensive and practically self-operating law should be worked out now and enacted so that every soldier on the firing line and every wife or child will know definitely what provision the nation will make in fulfillment of its obligation to those who make the supreme sacrifice in this great conflict for the maintenance of our national honor.

In the framing of such legislation the veterans of the Civil War should be able to render valuable assistance. They know the weaknesses of the pension legislation of the past. They have reached a time in life when their own personal interests cannot be affected. They can approach the subject with intelligent appreciation of the needs of the veteran and his dependents and yet without undue prejudice in favor of liberal provisions for those who suffer the misfortunes of war.

The present policy of exempting from conscription those who have dependent relatives to remove the need for legislation for the relief of dependents during the war. If circumstances shall make continuance of that policy possible, the problem of framing general pension legislation will be simplified. But it will be only a few months or even weeks, before we shall be bringing home disabled men who offered their lives at their country's call. Those men, rendered dependent by service for the nation, should not be thrown as charges upon families who may find the burden a grievous one, no matter how gladly they may undertake it. The service the soldier is rendering is for the nation at large. The nation should promptly and willingly make provision to bear the burden of caring for those who come out of the conflict incapacitated for self-support.

WHY WE ARE AT WAR

Some people think this world is big enough to hold anything. It is not. Any number of things could be mentioned which it has not room for. Certainly it is not big enough to hold the nation the United States of America aspires to be and the nation the German Empire aspires to be.

This nation is, as Lincoln said, a republic dedicated to the proposition that all men are free and equal. Despite all its failures and shortcomings it aspires to develop along these lines—to become a more democratic nation as it becomes a greater nation; to lead other nations, by the force of its example, to become free and strong and self-sustaining. With all its record of wars and conflicts, its ideal is peace. The one thing it it values more than peace is justice.

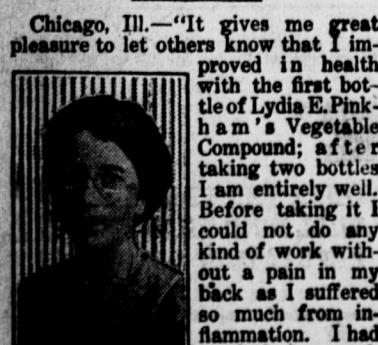

The German Empire is the last great stronghold of the doctrine of "divine rights" of the belief that some men are appointed by God to rule over the rest of mankind. It aspires, even as Caesar and Genghis Khan and Napoleon aspired, to world domination. It is based on a belief in force. For two generations it has subordinated everything to military efficiency. The right of the German Empire to dictate to other nations is an accepted part of its creed. The use of any measure of force or brutality that will enable it to be so is openly proclaimed as a national policy.

Two such nations could not continue to exist and to grow in a world no larger than ours. A clash was inevitable. The world cannot remain half democratic and half autocratic.

This, in few words, is why we are at war.—Southern Agriculturist.

DANISH WOMAN REGAINS HEALTH

Tells Everybody What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Her.

Chicago, Ill.—"It gives me great pleasure to let others know that I improved in health with the first bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; after taking two bottles I am entirely well. Before taking it I could not do any kind of work without a pain in my back as I suffered so much from inflammation. I had headaches, was always tired and no appetite. Words cannot express my gratitude for the good your medicine has done me, and through me to my family. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women suffering from female troubles, particularly to Danish women."—Mrs. META DAMGAARD-MATSEN, 2187 Kimball Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Babies' Health Contest Draws Mothers to the State Fair

COMMISSIONER COHEN AND PRIZE CUP AND BABY.

You would guard your baby with your life, but how much better to guard it with your brain. One million babies are now entering on their first summer, and one out of every fifteen of these will die, according to medical statistics, from heat, poor nourishment and the wrong clothes. Do you want your baby to be one of the fifteen? If not, learn how to keep your little one from heat suffering, from the wrong food and from clothes that sap its little strength.

Through the examinations, mental and physical, the scoring of points both good and bad, the scientific object lessons and reading matter provided by the Babies' Health Contest at the Kentucky State Fair, which will be held this year the week of Sept. 10, thousands of mothers are enabled to judge just what dangers are threatening their babies, just what ills to remedy and just how to keep them in prime condition.

If you had a hog, a horse or cow you would learn and know something of its care, because it is valuable. Isn't your baby worth more than horse or cow or pig? Is the query of those interested in the promotion of scientific baby care. They argue that, no matter how lovely, how dimpled, how pink and white and sweet it is, there may be disease or deformity lurking under this beauty, and this is an evil of which you should be forewarned.

Up to date mothers throughout Kentucky are not only entering this contest to find out about their babies, but are coming back year by year to mark the progress this knowledge has given them and the improvement it has made in their children.

The contest this year, which is under the supervision of Mrs. John L. Woodbury, will be marked by a number of innovations, among which will be an elaborate display of knitted goods for babies and the giving away of patterns for these articles to the mothers desiring them.

Another attractive feature will be the spectacular parade which will feature the baby contest. This parade will be arranged as a beautiful spectacle in the Hippodrome pavilion and will show every little tot entered in the contest to the greatest advantage.

Entrance to the Babies' Health Contest is free and is open to babies between twelve and thirty-six months throughout the state of Kentucky.

For catalogue or information address Fount T. Kremer, Secretary Kentucky State Fair, Suite 604 Republic Building, Louisville, Ky.

THE WHIRLING ERFORDS.

THE Kentucky State Fair is a valuable, instructive and progressive institution, but to the average person it is the amusements offered by the Fair which constitute its greatest appeal.

In the Hippodrome exhibition, to be held nightly in the Live Stock Pavilion, there has been secured an entertainment which will outstrip anything of the kind ever offered. The horse show which has heretofore distinguished the Kentucky State Fair will again be given in its entirety, and yet in addition to these features, which are well worthy a $2 admission fee in themselves, the management is providing the added and unrivaled glory of a world's championship five galloped horse stake of $10,000, which will be offered in combination with both Hippodrome and horse show for the unprecedented admission price of 50 cents per person.

Some of the features will be: The Helen Leach-Wallin Trio in a grand aerial whirling exhibition which is said to be the most thrilling of its kind ever offered.

They will be followed by the Four Riders, who are equilibrists of unbelievable skill and strength.

The Tasma Three are a trio of fetching young girls who present one of the most dangerous and sensational wire acts in the show business.

The Bellicaire Brothers, "daredevils of the arena," do a death defying stunt in which one makes a sensational dash down a steep incline in a miniature auto, loops a great arc and flies from the abandoned car on to the outstretched hands of his partner, who holds him aloft despite the terrific impact.

The Novel Brothers are described by their billing. Their specialty is clowning and music.

Olympia Des Vall & Co. is reputed to be one of the most beautiful and wonderful equine and canine exhibitions in America.

Holland and Dockrill offer sensational bareback riding and whirling driving with four magnificent Arabian horses and a gold Roman chariot.

Adela Von Ohl boasts but the one horse, but she is said to provide a whole show. Miss Von Ohl is regarded as the most noted cowgirl in America.

The piece de resistance of the roster will, it is claimed, be Erford's Marvelous Whirling Sensations. The keynote of this act is aerial whirling in picturesque array of angels and demons. One of the prettiest features is the "Dance of the Demons" and a finale on musical bells.

This entire wonderful program will be crowned and completed by Cavallo's great Concert Band of forty musicians. They are said to be richly uniformed.

The Kentucky State Fair Catalogue for the 1917 Fair, to be held in Louisville the week of Sept. 10, lists 6,000 prize ribbons, over 100 cups and trophies, valued at $5,000 or more, and a money award total of $50,000.

NEW CRISIS IN RUSSIA

Cabinet Resigns But Reconsiders—Governor of Petrograd Is Shot—Last Attempt Will Be Made By Premier Kerensky to Reconstruct the Ministry From Socialists and Radicals.

Petrograd, August 3—General Erdell, military governor of Petrograd, says the Bourse Gazette, has been killed. He was treacherously shot in the back.

Petrograd, August 3—Premier and War Minister Kerensky and all the other members of his cabinet, except Vice Premier Nekrasoff, resigned today. Later, with the exception of M. Terestchenko, the foreign minister, they withdrew their resignations.

The action of Premier Kerensky and his fellow cabinet members came about as the result of accusations against M. Tchernoff, the minister of agriculture, and a complete breakdown of the negotiations to bring the Constitutional Democrats into the cabinet. M. Tchernoff was accused of having been connected with the German general staff.

A last attempt will be made to reconstruct the ministry under Premier Kerensky with the chief new members being exclusively from the Socialist and Radical parties.

Mr. Tchernoff has resigned his seat as minister of agriculture in the Russian cabinet. In a letter to Premier Kerensky, M. Tchernoff said he was resigning to obtain freedom of action in order to defend his character against the calumny that he had been connected with the German general staff.

The Government accepted the resignation, at the same time expressing the conviction that Mr. Tchernoff will succeed in rehabilitating himself.

London, August 3—The Russian General Gurko, former commander of the armies south of the Russian western front has been arrested according to Reuter's Petrograd correspondent.

The retirement of General Gurko was announced last May. It was stated at the same time he had been ordered dismissed because he objected to interference by the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates with the provisional government.

SPRAY FOR LEAF-SPOT OF TOMATOES

The addition of resin fish-oil soap to Bordeaux mixture promises to control tomato leaf-spot, although Bordeaux alone has not prevented losses.

Plant-disease specialists in the Federal Department of Agriculture describe the leaf-spot disease as one which causes defoliation of the plants, greatly reduced yields, and inferior fruit. Small circular spots develop on the leaves and sometimes on the stems. The first appear as tiny dots, having a dark or water-soaked appearance. Gradually they enlarge and turn brown, and the leaves shrivel and drop, beginning at the base of the plant.

Bordeaux mixture is best prepared by making stock solutions of the separate ingredients. The copper sulphate should be mixed in the proportions of a gallon of water, preferably soft water, to a pound of the sulphate crystals and there should be five gallons of this stock solution for each acre of tomatoes to be sprayed. The crystals should be dissolved in the usual way by suspending them in a burlap bag which touches the surface of the water; the solution should be well stirred.

The lime suspension or milk of lime, is also a pound to a gallon, but only three-fourths as many gallons are needed as of the copper solution.

Thus, if there are twenty gallons of the copper solution there would be only fifteen of the lime milk. The lime should be slaked gradually by pouring the water on in small quantities and at intervals until all has crumbled. Finally larger quantities are added with constant stirring until the volume is completed. If quicklime can not be had and hydrated lime is available use as many pounds of the latter as of copper sulphate, but do not increase the quantity of water. Air-slaked lime must not be used.

The resin fish-oil soap suspension is made with a pound of soap to a gallon of water. As with the lime, only three-fourths of the quantity of water is necessary. Hot water will hasten the dissolving of the soap. To avoid the formation of troublesome lumps the water must be added slowly at first with constant stirring.

For general commercial operations two 50-gallon barrels with outlets at the bottom are placed on a raised platform so their outlets will be higher than the top of the spray tank. To make 100 gallons measure eight gallons of the copper-sulphate solution into one barrel and six gallons of the milk of lime into the other. Add to each enough water to make forty-seven gallons, stirring the contents thoroughly, and then let the two solutions run with equal rates into a trough leading to the spray tank. At the same time add six gallons of the resin fish-oil soap solution very gradually and in a small stream through the spray-tank strainer along with the copper-lime mixture. The copper sulphate and lime should be mixed before the soap is added.

Modifications of the method may be used for smaller quantities. A traction sprayer such as that employed in the spraying of potatoes may be used except where the vines are too large. There should be three nozzles for each row, one to spray downward and two no the sides spraying toward each other. These lateral nozzles should be set low and pointed slightly up to get the spray on the under side of the leaves. Thorough spraying, repeated at from seven to ten day intervals, is necessary for the best results, and must be continued through August. When the plants are too large for a traction sprayer in the rows, roadways should be opened and the spraying continued with long lines of hose.

DON'T HAMPER THE FARMER

Before a year has passed nearly a million men now engaged in productive occupations will be called to the colors in the war for humanity and decency. About a fourth of this number will probably be drawn from agricultural pursuits, cattle raising and the like. This will put a strain on our farmers, who have been urged to do everything in their power to make their lands yield their maximum possible return. Our farmers have responded nobly to the nation's call for all the food they can produce, but of what use is it to produce food supplies if they can not be delivered to market? Corn that stays in the farm-cribs, as it was held for months last winter in many parts of the corn belt, does nobody any good. Wheat that stays on the farms of Kansas as it stayed last winter helps only the rats. What is the sense of the railroads cutting didos with the transportation system of the country, if the feeders of the railroads, our public roads to shipping points, are to be neglected so that the good work of the farmers is rendered of little avail by inability to get the stuff from the land into the cars? There are a few hysterical persons in office who seem to think that good roads are a luxury because their grandfathers did not have them. They forget that their

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Maysville Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Maysville adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

Frank Taylor, Prop. barber shop, 401 E. Second St., Maysville, says: "A few months ago, I had a slight attack of kidney trouble and my kidneys were irregular in action. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and then again, were scanty and highly colored. I had a dull, steady ache through the small of my back and my back was weak. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Channell's Drug Store, cured me of the complaint."

Mr. Taylor is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that cured Mr. Taylor—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c all stores. HOW HEELS ORIGINATED Heels originally came from Persia, where they were used in the shape of small wooden blocks, which the people fastened below their sandals, in order to keep their feet as high above the level of the burning sand as possible. At first they were only four centimeters high for men and women alike. Soon, however, the ladies favored fabulous sizes, reaching up to as much as thirty-six centimeters. A few years later on these heels were brought to Venice, where they became the fashion; they were called "chaplains," and were ornamented and decorated in every possible style and shape that cobblers could dream of. The height of the "chaplains" showed the rank of the wearer, and finally they attained such dimensions that many fashionable ladies were quite unable to walk.

Men may look further ahead these days, but not as high.

APPROACHING CONFERENCE

Being Much Discussed at Ruggles—Big Meeting Coming To a Close—Interesting Notes of Campers and Meetings.

Ruggles Campgrounds, August 3—As camping draws to a close, and as the preachers come and go, the chief topic is the approaching Annual Conference of the Methodist Church to be held in the Third Street Church, Maysville. The ministers, without an exception are pleased that the Conference is to be in Maysville. The Maysville folks out here will have the advantage of those at home in that they are picking out the preachers they wish to entertain during conference. So far there is but one unmarried preacher in the bunch. Of course he will have no trouble to receive an invitation to be entertained. The Maysville people are making plans to entertain in good style. As soon as the pastor, Rev. Hunt, gets home he will get the church together and complete arrangements for the Conference.

Revs. Ragan and Hunt made a trip to Kinney today returning late in the afternoon accompanied by Mrs. Ragan and Master Ragan, Jr., who will remain over Sunday.

Prof. C. S. Dale and Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Lykens are in Vanceburg today. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wood, Miss Mae Wood and their three boys, will return to Maysville tomorrow.

Revs. E. R. Overley and W. H. Davenport, District Superintendents, H. D. Cooper and A. P. Smith will leave Saturday for their respective appointments.

A number of our men will hike out tomorrow to their respective voting places to cast their vote in the primary. There is not much political talk on the grounds. One so loses himself in the enjoyment of the place that dates and events are all mixed. Its the best place we know of to forget the outside world.

Someone "swiped" one of the big gasoline lights out in the woods the other night very much to the annoyance to our light man "Billy" Sons. The light had better be returned or "Billy" and the Board of Directors will "have the law" on them sure. "Safety first." Better bring back the light.

Mrs. J. L. Gault and son, Gordon, and Miss Corinna Slye of Maysville came out today to remain over Sunday, guests of Mrs. Charles H. Farrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor and son, Charles Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor and daughter, Josephine, and Mrs. Joseph Hays of Hillsboro, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper of Waynetown, Indiana, and Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor and son, Gordon Barkley, of Veederburg, Ind., composed an automobile party who arrived this afternoon on a visit to their sister, Mrs. G. A. Kelley.

Mr. Boyd K. Muse will return to Maysville Saturday after a few days' visit with his mother and sisters.

President Franklin of Union College of Barbourville, came into camp this evening just at the beginning of the service. The whole camp was delighted to see him. He is here in the interest of the college. He made a short address at the close of the service. Tomorrow he will speak at the morning service. In the meantime he will endeavor to get in touch with some of the high school graduates who are camping here with a view to having them enter Union College this next term.

Rev. H. G. Carroll, formerly a pastor at Tolestboro, now of Ohio, came into camp this evening. He is being greeted by his many friends. He will preach for us Saturday afternoon.

Rev. William Jones led the early devotional services today. Rev. N. H. Young of Corbin preached at the morning service. For the afternoon an address to the young people by Rev. A. P. Smith of West Union, Ohio. "Big" Smith as he is familiarly called is always a favorite here. And he certainly increased the number of his friends and admirers at this campmeeting. Rev. E. R. Overley preached at the evening service. An immense crowd was at this service. Such music has never been surpassed at this campmeeting. Rev. Ragan has gotten more singing out of the congregations and the choir than any singer for years. The choir was augmented this evening by the junior, the little folks under Miss Wilson. It was a great sight to see and a joy to hear the volume of melody that was put forth. Rev. Ragan is making good his part of the campmeeting.
